Cannon Hall Exhibition

When Spencer met Stanhope: Family Portraits at Cannon Hall Museum

FREE

Sat 14 May–Sun 30 Oct

Cannon Hall was the home of the Spencers, then the Spencer-Stanhopes, from the 17th century until the 1950s.

This fascinating exhibition of family portraits makes connections between different members and generations of this remarkable family.

Stories from the archives shine a light on individual characters, explore familial relationships and reveal daily life at Cannon Hall in the 18th and 19th centuries.

The family's role in world events and their local community are explored through a series of remarkable objects.

Many of the objects and portraits on display have been gifted in recent years by a descendant of the family.

A number are on display for the very first time.

Walter Spencer Stanhope
by John Hoppner.

Shop at Worsbrough Mill

At Worsbrough Mill we are passionate about the range of stoneground, organic flours we produce.

Using French Burr millstones driven by waterpower, we mill a range of premium quality grains sourced from organic farms in the UK to produce our flours. The grain we use is grown to Organic standards, meaning that we can trace each batch of flour produced back to the field it came from.

Our flour can be used to make a variety of baked products from bread to scones and cakes. Small batch milling ensures the freshest flour possible for the best baking results. Bread made by hand or in a bread machine deserves good flour.

Why not visit our newly refurbished shop? Come and browse our range of stoneground, organic flours milled onsite in our 17th century watermill. The shop is open Wednesday–Sunday, 10am–3pm.

Freshly baked sourdough

Our freshly baked sourdough is available to buy from the shop on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.
